

About Qualifying Differences

Adaptation of the partnership to the Covid-19 situation

The Qualifying Differences project partnership has been already working on to enable adults with disabilities and professionals to initiate, develop and or finalize the process of certification and validation of competences across Europe.

It has been a very challenging year, but the partnership has continued to work online, monitoring and implementing the results, outputs and dissemination of this wonderful project even if we were not able to meet in person due to the pandemic restrictions.

Booklet “Understanding Disability”

The first output of the project is a result from a research into the various types of disability and their characteristics, which aims to serve as training material for both professionals working with citizen and employers. This output will be available very soon through the project website in all partner languages.

Dissemination activities

In the first stages of the project, a dissemination plan has been created and agreed on by all partners. The aim of this dissemination plan is to define strategies and concrete actions (both online and offline) to be put in place and the dissemination of the objectives and results of the project to its main target groups:

- Career advisors/ guidance professionals/ trainers working with disabled adults.
- Adult learners with disabilities.

Comming soon!

The partnership is currently working hard to develop the modules that will be contained in the European Platform to Support Adult Recognition, Validation and Certification of competences. The access to this online tool will be found via the project website as an open and free educational resource very soon.
